BOOGIE BREAKFAST RETURNS TO HARRODSBURG COMMUNITY CENTER

Friday, July 17 and Saturday, July 18 will be time for the 4th Annual Grace Center Boogie Breakfast. If you have attended past Boogie Breakfast fundraisers, then you know what's coming—a yummy breakfast! This year, the Lion's Club will join Grace Center volunteers to bring the community a breakfast of sausage gravy and biscuits, eggs, orange juice, and coffee. Doesn't that sound delicious? While there is no charge for the breakfast, we urge you to give generously for this annual Grace Center fundraiser. The breakfast will be served at the Harrodsburg Community Center from 7:30-11:00 Friday morning and Saturday morning.

SEE YOU THERE

Something New for July

JULY'S COMMUNITY DINNER PITCH-IN

Chef Joel will not be available for the July Grace Center Community Dinner. Should we cancel the dinner? NO! The Grace Center Board decided the dinner should go on with a PITCH-IN DINNER!

Grace Center will provide the following dishes: • Honey Baked Ham • Baked Beans • JELL-O Fruit Salad • Ice Cream • Drinks.

You, the community will provide: • Side Dishes/Salads • Desserts

We know there are many good cooks and you won't want to miss some of the best food in the county! If you don't cook, you can pick something up at the grocery store. See you July 28 at 5:30-7:00. Come for FUN, FRIENDS, and FOOD!!

Thanks Newsletter Gang

Beginning around 5:00 pm the day of the Community Dinner, volunteers fold and stamp our monthly newsletters, to get them ready to mail. Come join in the fun, then stay for dinner. This is an important event in our community, it involves YOU, our community!

LAKEVIEW ELEMENTARY YEAR END FOOD DRIVE!

Lakeview Elementary School partnered again with Grace Food Pantry and held another successful food drive. Lakeview's Student Council and Staff ignored the hectic year-end schedule and helped organize a targeted food drive for Grace Food Pantry. Targeted food drives request items especially needed for the food pantry. All food donations are always welcome, but it is very nice for the food pantry to supply items we know the families need. Lakeview students collected:

- 30 Skillet dinner mixes
- 38 cans of tuna and salmon
- 20 boxes of pancake mix
- 15 bottles of syrup
- 17 dry and evaporated milk
- 21 boxes of potatoes
- 14 packages of egg noodles
- 8 bottles of catsup
- 27 boxes of pasta

59 miscellaneous
 Volunteers from Grace Food Pantry went to Lakeview and picked up the food, which totaled 255 pounds! Contact Grace Food Pantry at 824-5595 or gracecenter-inc@gmail.com if you, your business, organization, or church would like to organize a food drive. Food drives can even be held at Kroger's. Get involved, Be involved!

POWER DRINKS AND SPORTS DRINKS: SHOULD YOUR CHILD DRINK THEM?

ENERGY IN A CAN, the latest craze has come on strong. Youth of all ages are drinking them for a pick-me-up, but many pediatricians and nutritionists are saying these drinks are very unhealthy. The “sports” drinks are loaded with sodium. Many of the energy drinks contain large amounts of caffeine. Caffeine is only one in a long list of ingredients that give an energy boost. The most common ingredients are ginseng, guarana and taurine. All the ingredients combined, deplete the adrenal glands, (located near the kidneys), and can cause dehydration and other negative health effects.

After the initial jolt wears off, these drinks can leave you feeling tired and sick. This is especially true for children who drink them. The drinks are popular but are replacing nutritious foods and plain water; both basic needs that help children’s brains and bodies grow in the healthiest ways.

Another warning: when you look at the nutritional facts, remember to notice the serving size. Did you know that the 32 ounce can of energy drink is meant to be FOUR-eight ounce SERVINGS? Parents, look at the research and have a serious discussion with your child about what comes in these different drinks. If your child needs an energy boost, start with healthy meals each day, which should include protein, grains, and fruits and vegetables. If kids and teens are sluggish during the day, water is a healthy energy booster.

Keep in mind, this includes Gatorade type drinks as well. Unless your child is a “marathon athlete”, limit the amount of sports and energy drinks. Not only will this be healthier for you and your children, you will save money too!
